THE TIGER

PUBLISHED ANNUALLY BY THE STUDENTS OF THE LICK-WILMERDING SCHOOL

1956

Edwin M. Rich—Director—A. B. University of California

DEDICATION

Since the four years that we have had at Lick-Wilmerding have been, we believe, the most important and formative years of our lives, we feel that we owe a great debt to our Director, Mr. Rich. He has worked hard creating opportunities and opening doors for all of us, and he has given unselfishly of his time to each of us individually as well as to the class as a whole. It is with deep appreciation and respect that we, the senior class of Lick-Wilmerding, dedicate this year book to our Director, Mr. Edwin M. Rich.

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

WHAT ONE SAYS EDITORIALLY on the pages of a year book is too often but a matter of wordage and therefore is not significant. It is usually the intent of the writer, whether it be a student editor, a student contributor, or, as in this case, the School Director, to attempt a proper arrangement of words on the "given" page in the hope that the resulting paragraphs will have meaning. If the writer can successfully by-pass the more usual pitfalls of tight traditionalism and vacuous verbiage, he may give to the page he has been requested to fill a fulminating phrase, a core-reaching clause, a stimulating sentence. Or, if more than fortuitously guided, he might even produce a pointed paragraph which would bring his page to life.

Some of the difficulties mentioned above with which the writer tangles might be eliminated if he could honestly and simply reproduce his thought or thoughts while concentrating upon the need for the explanation of simple, honest feeling and thereby eliminate the pursuit of the tantalizing trend which indicates that the more words we use the more we say. It is conceivable, I suppose, that the day might come when such a sincere and gifted person might startle and significantly impress the reader of a Lick-Wilmerding Tiger by filling this page with one sentence. True, in the usual sense he would not have filled the page with words, but he might very well have said something honestly simple which could fill the mind of the reader with understood ideas and resulting knowledge which would lead to a thorough understanding of the real pride and enthusiasm any director must have in the recorded accomplishments of his students which the year book reports.

It is painfully obvious by now, as I reach the final paragraph, that your present Director does not have the skill which he indicates would produce the startling one-sentence message, but within his definite limitations he does have the good sense to state that his pride in your accomplishments makes his position as your Director such a rewarding one that he continues to count himself one of the fortunate few whose work is continually satisfying and challenging to him.

THE SENIOR YEAR

Under the leadership of Tom Wiper, the fall class president, the Senior class participated a great deal in school activities. George Somers was elected Student Body President, George Offen, Vice-President, and Hi McComish, Secretary-Treasurer, and these boys, along with Bayford Butler, one of the class Council Representatives, formulated the basic plan for the Student Court. They constantly changed and added to the plan as new ideas were introduced, and they followed it through to its final completion under the second semester's Council. Meanwhile, as leaders of the Council, the school officers were faced with other problems, such as the school budget, the awarding of script points and proposed amendments to the school's Constitution.

In the second part of the school year under the class leadership of Hi McComish and the Senior Student Body Officers, George Offen, President, and Bayford Butler, Secretary-Treasurer, the Student Court passed the Council, and the rules were laid down governing the theft of the school axe. Also the Seniors took part in the annual Lick, Hamlin's, Burke's play, "Bachelor Boat," in which they both acted and served as stage crew. The high points of this year for the Seniors were the Senior Sneak, held at Searsville Lake, and the Senior Prom, held at the Cliff House. The sneak was highlighted by the condition of the terrain which led to a good natured, interclass mudfight near the lake, pictures of which may be seen in the introductory montage. Another activity which involved practically the whole Senior class was a water fight with the Juniors which lasted for almost two weeks.

On a more serious note, we of the Senior class think that a boy who was to graduate with us should be paid a tribute here. We were shocked and grieved to learn, early in September, that Norman Leonard was drowned while swimming in the Russian River. While he was at Lick, we knew him as a boy who was deeply interested in electronics and who had built a great number of electrical instruments here at school. We recognized and respected his work in this field, and it is with heavy hearts that we pay him our final tribute.

SENIOR WILLS

I, Jerry Bettman, will my sister, Jean, to any upcoming Senior who is handsome enough to deserve her.

I, David Biernoff, will my ability to write horror stories to Bob Moulthrop.

I, Tony Broughton, will to Ed Thomas my old football shoes with which I ran for 5.1123465972 yards per carry so that they might help him pick up his lead feet.

I, Robert W. Browne, will to any Junior my pair of earmuffs and a bottle of sleeping pills to be used in Physics only.

I, Bayford Butler, will one amber light to Jim Nuckolls to be used exclusively at Lick play rehearsals.

I, Andre Delagnes, will to Don Hughes my fine physique.

I, Doug Galten, will Sandy Godman to anybody who is handsome enough and man enough to take her away from me.

I, Richard Hassel, will fifty miles to San Jose.

I, Bob Hebson, will to Mr. Berlin two bottles of my mother's nerve pills.

I, John Kelly, will to Ward Kent my favorite expression—"Your rattled brain is the Devil's workshop."

I, Ward Kent, will my unceasing questions and remarks in English to whomever Mrs. Teterin selects.

I, Peter Lowe, will my big feet to the trophy case.

I, Hi Comish, will one chrome strip from my Buick to Andre Delagnes for use on his Lincoln.

I, Don McCrea, will one purple foot to the up and coming group of Sophs who try to sing at assemblies.

I, Dave Milani, will my built-up Merc to Frank Schweiger to replace his "A".

I, George Offen, will the entire Lick student body to anyone who is lucky enough to be the next President.

I, Mike Reshatoff, will my burnt out LaSalle to any Junior dumb enough to take it.

I, Dick Schiller, will to anyone who wants it my membership card in Mr. Britton's slave drivers' club.

I, Ed Schottstaedt, will my books on ornithology and entomology to Mrs. Teterin.

I, Frank Schweiger, will to any athletes at Lick a championship baseball team.

I, Don Scoble, will my explosive chemistry experiments to anyone who is fool enough to try them.

I, George Somers, will my louvres to Pete Lowe so that he may go faster.

I, Tom Wiper, will on pair of blue suede shoes to Denis McNicoll.

I, John T. Zastrow, will my forensic abilities to Mr. Rich.

ACTIVITIES

THE STUDENT COUNCILS

The principal issue before the Councils this year was the estoblishment of o Student Court. There wos much debote on this matter in both Councils, and finally under the leadership of George Offen in the spring term the plon was completed and passed by a unonimous vote.

Other matters that came before the Councils were the Script point problem, rules governing the theft of the school oxe, ond olso the problem of students' eating in cars. An entirely new script point plan was proposed and possed, ond for the first time the Block LW received script points. The set of rules suggested by o committee of Council Representotives, governing the theft of the school axe, received the full approval of both the Council and the Administration. At the end of the school year the students were given permission to eot in their cars, providing they did not throw trash out of the cors. These three bills were steps forward in the self-government of the students and, along with the Student Court, will make Lick a unique school in San Froncisco in the extent of its student government.

THE LICK COUNSELING COMMITTEE

The Lick Counseling Committee, commonly colled the L. C. C., was formed for the purpose of enforcing the school rules ond helping new students get acquainted with Lick. A number of its members proposed the bosic plon for the Student Court, which is bosed upon the ideo of students' disciplining themselves. This yeor the group has worked closely with the Student Council in the passing of the Student Court plan ond also in mointoining school discipline. The members of this body deserve the highest commendotion for the work they have been doing and are sure to do in the future.

THE L-W FORUM

The second year of Lick Wilmerding's newest student organization, the L-W Forum, produced much action and interest among its membership. The club marks its third "termiversory" this June and has already made important strides in increasing the members' skill in debating, in parliamentary procedure, and in respecting the rights and privileges of other speakers. The group has sent official representatives to State tournaments and has estoblished ties with the local representatives of the National Forensic Leaque and of the state league. Meetings of the club have been held regularly on Tuesdays at lunchtime.

The President of the Forum in the Fall of 1955 wos John Zastrow, and Steve Adams provided the Spring leodership. The group's number averaged about fourteen, but its comparative smallness was offset by the unusual degree of participation by each member.

THE L-W CUB

This year the CUB, the school newspaper, although not having as large a staff as usual, published a number of fine issues. The most radical departure from the policy of previous years was the abandonment of the "magazine" type publication with an art cover and the adoption of a front page format resembling more closely that of a newspaper with a masthead and headlines. Steve Adams was this year's Editor.

The work of the CUB staff was considerably lightened through the generous donation of Mrs. Hurd of a room in Ginn House in which the newspaper could be arranged and produced. Among the students who showed an active interest in the school newspaper this year were Bay Butler, Carl Zachrisson, and Richard Scott, in addition to the freshman reporters and contributors.

CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP FEDERATION

The L-W Chapter of the California Scholarship Federation confers membership upon students who maintain high standards in their academic work and who actively participate in school organizations and functions.

The Chapter meets each semester with Mr. Britton, Chapter Advisor, to elect officers, admit new members, distribute lapel pins and organize the functions of the organization. A picnic has been planned by the group, and vigorous campaigns to enroll all eligible students have been conducted on numerous occasions.

This year the officers elected by the C. S. F. for the fall term were George Offen, President; Steve Adams, Vice-President; and Jeffrey Brink, Secretary Treasurer. In the spring the Vice-President and the Secretary-Treasurer were re-elected, and Ed Schottstaedt became the new President.

The Chapter awards life membership in the C. S. F. to students who maintain their membership for at least four of their final six semesters, at least one of which must be in the Senior year. A handsome insignia is presented to each so honored student at the final assembly, and a handsome seal is embossed upon his diploma. The Chapter looks forward to admitting this June a record number of life members.

THE NEWSREEL

During the past semester the L.W. Newsreel has not been so active as in previous years. This inactivity is principally due to the cancellation of this year's Open House, the affair at which the Newsreel has been traditionally presented for the enjoyment of students, parents and faculty, both present and prospective.

The Newsreel consists of a series of full-color 35mm slides, which, when projected onto a large screen and accompanied by a carefully synchronized tape recorded sound track, present a graphic and imposing panorama of this school's activities of the past year. This year there will be a separate, full color moving picture of Lick's move from old school to new, including shots of the actual ground breaking.

Besides its many delegated activities, the Newsreel has also created the amateur photographs to be found in this yearbook.

For the two years of its existence, Jim Nuckolls has been the producer and director of the Newsreel and has also been chiefly responsible for the constant coordination and successful compilation of the several facets of the production, some of which are photography, sound recording, writing, narrating, Council and student relations, and finances. The Newsreel has always worked on a budget which is far below the actual cost of production; yet the two shows which have been presented have been of the highest quality.

TOP ROW—Donald Campbell, John Wilkensen
MIDDLE ROW—Bill O'Connell, Bayford Butler, Carl Zachrisson

THE SCHOOL BAND

The school band had quite a successful season this year and was new in many ways. It developed a contemporary style and acquired two new members. The far-out piano playing of Eric Stratmann and the crazy pounding of Frank Carroll on the drums helped the band with its progressive style. Tony Broughton on his cool trumpet and Jerry Greenwood with a mad rhythm on his bass completed the ensemble. Dave Biernoff added, on several occasions, his "different" guitar playing. All in all, the band enjoyed playing, and the student body applauded its creations.

THE PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

In the first semester the Photography Club was very active under the able leadership of John Frankenstein and Richard Scott. It held a number of meetings in which the members discussed their own work, pictures done by professionals, and the different fields of photography. In the second semester the club was under the same leadership, but a number of the members left the club so that there was not too much group activity. However, the active members did enter Lick in the annual photography contest at Sigmund Stern Grove, at which they exhibited a number of their fine pictures.

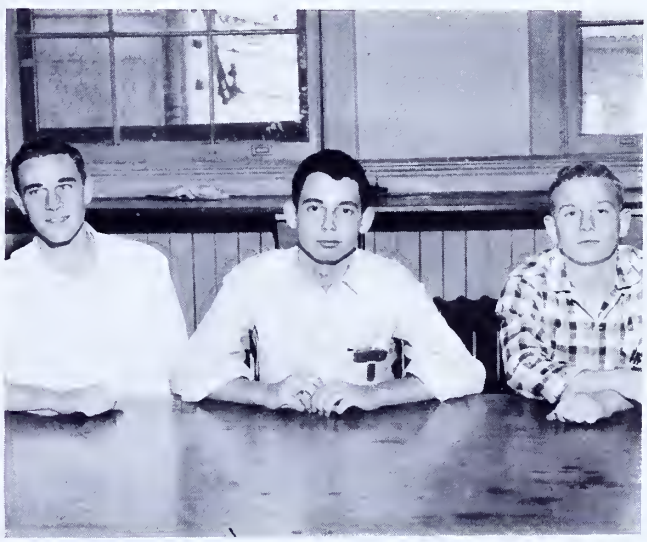
THE CHESS CLUB

The Lick Wilmerding Chess Club has had an unusually active and productive program this year. Although we have not had much competition with other schools, spirited rivalry has flourished at the regular lunch-time meetings. Mr. Breger, faculty advisor for the group, has had invaluable advice to give and suggestions to make, os well as providing stimulating competition for even the most skiliful student players. Amost everyone in the Club has made marked improvement in his game this year, and the talents of the players will be ranked in the annual Chess Tournament, scheduled for Moy. The Fall President of the Chess Club, Deming Upson, was prominent, along with other members, in the successful demand for script points last semester. Again head man this term, he is leading the group to new heights in individual chess skill and in ability to function as a successful team.

TIGER TALES

Tiger Tales, edited this year by Bob Moulthrop, is the Lick literary magazine. Founded two years ago by Bob Bent and Bayford Butler, it has always drawn its material from the English classes. In this way a cross section of the literary talent of the school is obtained. This year, under the editor's able leadership and with the help of John Frankenstein and Chips Haseltine, the Tales hopes to expand and will definitely come out in a format which will surpass that of past years. Tiger Tales will be distributed at the dedication ceremony for the new school.



Chips Haseltine, Robert Moulthrop, John Frankenstein

GLEE CLUB

For the second time, the Glee Clubs of the Katherine Delmar Burke's School, the Sarah Dix Hamlin's School and Lick-Wilmerding School combined to present an original musical comedy by Mr. Edwin M. Rich, Director of Lick.

The songs for the show were written by Mr. Rich and Mrs. Cameron and the whole musical score was recorded by Richard Walberg, a student at Lick.

This year's musical comedy was called "Bachelor Boat." The plot concerns three college seniors who propose to their girls on the night of the Senior Ball. The girls turn the boys down because they want to be asked twice. On being turned down, the boys swear off women and decide to take a summer bachelor cruise on the yacht of one of their friends. They all take an oath of secrecy, but in a weak moment each tells his girl of the plans of the three "pseudo celibates." The girls decide to stow away on the boat, and to make everything right and proper they shanghai a chaperone to go along with them. To the joy of the boys, the girls are discovered on board, and everything moves along smoothly to a happy ending.

The whole show was a great success and was enjoyed by everyone, cast and audience included.

SCRIPT BLOCK SOCIETY

This year the L-W Script Block Society has welcomed many new members and has bestowed renewed honors upon many of its senior members. A record number of students have earned twenty-four script points by participation in the group activities of the school, among which are the Newsreel, the Block L. W. Society, the Student Council, and many others.

The Society holds no regular meetings, but every member receives a handsome black and gold script "LW" for his first twenty-four points and a star for each subsequent twenty-four points. The Vice-President of the school is in charge of accounting for points earned, and, at the close of each semester, every student submits a list of the activities that he has participated in which make him eligible for script points.

THE TIGER

This year for the first time the editor of the yearbook was appointed by the Council before the summer vacation so that he could get to work during the summer on his layout and staff. Therefore, early in September Bayford Butler, this year's editor, was able to organize his staff, and with Deming Upson, to visit and obtain bids from many printers, binderies, photographers and yearbook cover companies.

The printer finally chosen was Pool and Duffy, Lithographers, who have shown by their help and cooperation that the choice was a good one. The next step was to engage S. K. Smith to do the cover, which was drawn by Deming Upson. Finally the other companies, mentioned in The Last Word, were chosen on the basis of the superiority of their work.

The students' help on this yearbook was invaluable and maintained a high standard. Jim Nuckolls should be complimented for his excellent photographic work, and John Frankenstein, Steve Adams and Bob Moulthrop for their fine writing.

Finally, the faculty should be applauded for their excellent aid both in a material and morale sense. Particularly to be noted are Mrs. Teterin for her help on the correction of the articles, Mr. Sleeper for releasing his boys to help on the book, and Mr. Tibbetts for his pictures of the old school.

DANCE COMMITTEE

In the fall semester the Dance Committee, under the direction of Vice-President George Offen, put on three dances, all of which, needless to say, were successes. The first dance, at which music was supplied by Jack Fava's Band, had as its theme "Midnight Dream." Eddy Alley's band provided the background for the next two dances, whose themes were "Winter Wonderland" and "Blue Moon."

Rich Scott was the Vice-President for the spring semester, and in his hands the Dance Committee put on "High Noon" and "Highland Fling" with the music of Dick Hart. At the last dance in the old school, "Memories are Made of This," Jimmy Diamond's Band was starred, and everyone really had a ball.

THE BLOCK L. W.

Under its two Presidents, Fred Gaidsick and Pete Lowe, the Society has progressed in a great many ways. The members of the group successfully petitioned the Student Council and the student body for script points and now participate in the script point plan. They also held a very successful dance at Ginn House, at which most of the members were present. In the future they plan to hold a mass initiation and to present a number of school rallies.

RALLY COMMITTEE

Under the fine leadership of George Somers in the first semester and George Offen in the second term the Rally Committee has done a great deal to improve the quality and content of the rallies. The main contributors to this improvement were Pete Lowe, Don McCrea, Boit Sesnon, Dave Biernoff and Jerry Greenwood, who formed the very popular group "The Purple Foot Mountain Boys' Choir." This group entertained the student body with their song arrangements and also with their original compositions. As a result of this successful group, the students' interest in the rallies ran high during the year, and the rally attendance records hit a new high.

In Memoriam

It is with profound regret and a feeling of great personal loss that we must announce the passing of one of our most beloved teachers, Mr. Henry J. Stutterd. During his nine years at Lick he endeared himself to students and teachers alike through his patience, kindness and understanding of human nature. He was also greatly respected for his wide knowledge of the fields of architectural drafting, biological drawing, technical sketching and surveying, in which he educated countless boys. So it is in memory of this fine and gracious teacher that we, the Lick Wilmerding Student Body, dedicate this memorial page.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Football became a major attraction at Lick this year, as the Tigers wound up the season with a won 3 and lost 4 record. Feeling and spirit ran high in the team as we racked up a total of 87 points for the season and held the opposition to 79 total points scored against us. A great coaching staff, headed by Dick Storm and Dick Duval, with assistants Pete Limn and Mike Saunders showed the Tigers how football was meant to be played and did more than a creditable job.

The Lick season started with a 33-6 win over Half Moon Bay. Taking this as a good omen, Lick next took on and defeated the Cadets of S.R.M.A. by a score of 12 to 8, with a pass from Ed Thomas to Fred Gaidsick in the closing seconds of the game. Somehow Lick got off on the wrong foot in the Emery game and received the first of two shutouts, losing by 18-0. A bus ride to San Lorenzo Valley High School built up team spirit, and the Tigers handed that school its only defeat of the season, with a score of 18-12. Our next home game, the first being against Emery, was against the California School for the Deaf, and the jinx was on the Lick team again. We lost to C.S.D., trailing only by a missed conversion at the final gun, 13-12. In our only night game, which was against St. Vincent's of Petaluma, we missed by one point again, that elusive conversion 13-12. It was the closest game St. Vincent's had played that year, and it was generally considered that this game was the best played of our entire season. In our last game of the season we were unfortunately blanked by Menlo, 19 to 0.

Our leading ground gainer was Tony Broughton, with 273 yards gained in 52 carries. Tony made one touchdown. Manning carried 48 times, made 221 yards and one T.D., while Fred Gaidsick made 212 yards in 46 carries and one T.D. Our quarterback, Ed Thomas, was rated fourth in Northern California with 83 passes thrown and 38 caught for 859 yards, 7 T.D.'s. On the receiving end, Andre Delagnes put on a spectacular show, catching 31 passes for 764 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Next year, with six of the starting offensive players coming back, with many from the reserve Varsity and J.V.'s, the season looks more promising and maybe, with the support of the Student Body, we'll hang a Conference Champion's banner on the wall of the new Lick gym.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

This year the "B's" won the unofficial Bay Counties League championship, winning all four games. We met Emery, and the "little guys" beat the Emery squad without much difficulty. We then played the huge Menlo team and beat them in a highly contested game, 12-6. We then avenged the Varsity's loss to Emery by mopping up the Emery squad again, the second string playing the first half. In our last game, against S.R.M.A., which was also unbeaten, we exploded in the last period and beat them 21-13.

Dave Ellertson, Erik Lund, and Sid Stockwell spearheaded the Lick backfield, with John Opsahl and Mike Fender doing the work in the line. The "B's" were coached by Coach Sobel and Ken Hunter. As most of the players will be coming back again next year, in 1957 another championship is in the offing.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

We should be looking forward to a great team next year, even though we did not have a successful basketball season this year. We will have the same team back next year, and they should take us on to a league championship. Our conference record was four wins, eight losses, which put us in fourth place. The team played excellent basketball, but was up against stiff opposition. The seasonal high scorer was Steve Fowler with 135 points, and he also held the high for a single game scorer with 20 points in the C. S. D. game. This fine record helped to gain him a place on the all conference team this year.

TOP ROW—John Hartman, John Matzger, Bill O'Connell, Marty Weyrauch, Tim Arnstein

B BASKETBALL

Although our B squad was one of the smallest in the league, it more than made up this deficiency in speed and agility. Among the outstanding players who composed this team were Ed Thomas, Don Fisher, and Jeff Mishkind, who were consistently the high point men. Under their leadership the team had an excellent season, winning seven and losing ten. Many of these games were not decided until the last minutes of play, affording the spectators a number of tense, thrilling moments. Just as we went to press, there was an announcement that Don Fisher won All-Conference for his splendid playing.

C BASKETBALL

Here, in a post-season photograph, are the members of our championship C basketball team. This is the second year in a row in which the team took a championship, but this time they had to share the honors with S.R.M.A. and Menlo. Trained by Coach Robert Warfel, they had a two for two Conference record, the highest the school has attained, and in non-conference games they had one win and three very close losses. Pacing the Cubs in all their games and taking all scoring honors was Dave Ellertson, the team's top man this year.

TOP ROW—John Nelson, George Kuznecovs, Chris Vogler, John Farber, Dave Ellertson, Ray Link, Tom Coddington

BASEBALL

This year we had a good baseball team, although it suffered many defeats. The team ran into trouble when it started to lose the members of its team. One of the biggest losses was John Bacon, who dislocated his shoulder early in the season. This unfortunate accident left the team without a shortstop. To counteract this mishap, Coach Padas moved Andre Delagnes to short and converted Ken Sproul from a catcher to third baseman. During the rest of the season the team did quite well, considering the condition it was in. One little sparkplug from the freshman class was pitcher George Wells, who won four games and lost two. George was the leading pitcher of the club, while Andre Delagnes and John Bacon were the leading sluggers, with batting averages of .344 and .323 respectively. John Bacon held the home run mark with two, while Delagnes and Schweiger had one apiece. The team won six games and lost eleven.

TOP ROW—Bruce Owen, Mike Vincent, John Gantner
MIDDLE ROW—Dave Barnett, Sid Stockwell, Joe Koopman

TENNIS

The tennis team this year was very fortunate in having four of last year's championship tennis lettermen return to the team. To this already strong squad were added Peter Jegers and John Gantner to produce a team that not only won half its matches but also beat consistently teams larger than itself. Most of the matches were lost in the beginning of the year when the team was still out of training, but about a quarter of the way through the season it really began to click and came through with another championship banner for Lick-Wilmerding.

SWIMMING

This year, under the able and experienced coaching of Mr. Sobel, the swimming team won ten out of thirteen meets, most of which were against such large teams as those of Mission, St. Ignatius and Capuchino High Schools. One of the most important factors in this winning team is its one-two punch which it has shown in three events: the 100 yard breast stroke with Pete Sternloff and Jerry Bettman, the 100 yard back stroke with Rick Bost and Bill Ososke, and the 200 yard freestyle with Tom Madden and Rich Plant. In addition to the excellent performance of these boys, our medley relay team has made the distinguished record of eleven wins and two losses. Although the Conference chances of this team are not too hopeful because of the lack of a diver, we of the Tiger wish them luck at the Conference meet on May 18, 1956.

The 130's are trying for their second straight championship after finishing a season of decisive wins and very close losses. Their hopes seem to be centered on the four man relay—composed of Moore, Davis, Bradley and Chamove—which should be unbeatable.

Another team that is attempting to hold the championship is the 115 team of Lick swimmers. It is reported that their chances are excellent this year, and we hope that both they and the 130's will be successful in retaining the championships.

1956 TRACK

The Lick Track Team—led by Harry Warfel, John Frankenstein, Art Park, Dave Biernoff, and Dave Stetz—is perhaps one of the more dangerous teams that Lick has fielded so far this year. Under the able direction of the new coach, Carlton Calumbat, school records have been broken, and the team has entered the Stockton and El Cerrito Relays. Entering these relays is a notable accomplishment, for Lick has not been represented at these meets for a great many years.

This year the team has members from all classes. Of the Freshmen, Dave Grambort and Arey Mew are the standouts. Art Park and Eric Lund star for the Sophomores. The Juniors' Dave Stetz and John Frankenstein fend for their class, while Harry Warfel, Dave Biernoff, and George Somers represent the Seniors.

NEW SCHOOL

Ground Breaking

The New School

NEW SCHOOL

Construction of the new Lick-Wilmerding building on Ocean Avenue is in its final stages. The industrious and spirited efforts of the alumni, students and faculty are being rewarded in this handsome monument, whose enormous cost, incidentally, has almost been met, with a considerable number of donations, large and small, coming from active and interested alumni and from parents of past and present pupils.

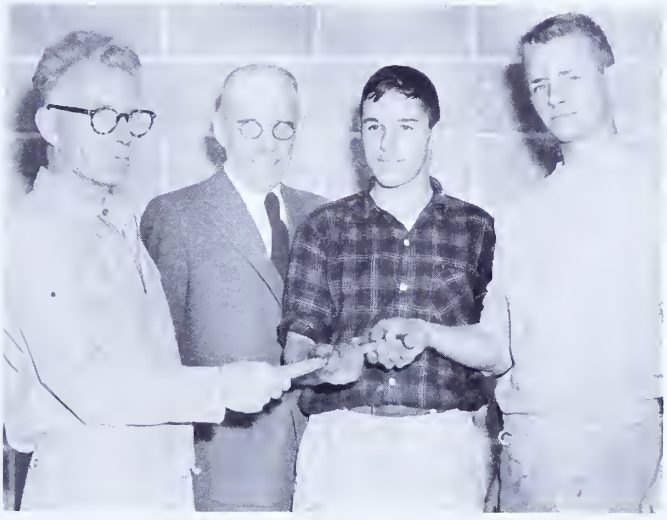
Many of the economies effected in the construction of the new building are due to the unselfish and industrious work done by our pupils. Work crews have been carefully organized and have efficiently accomplished a great deal in readying the building for occupancy.

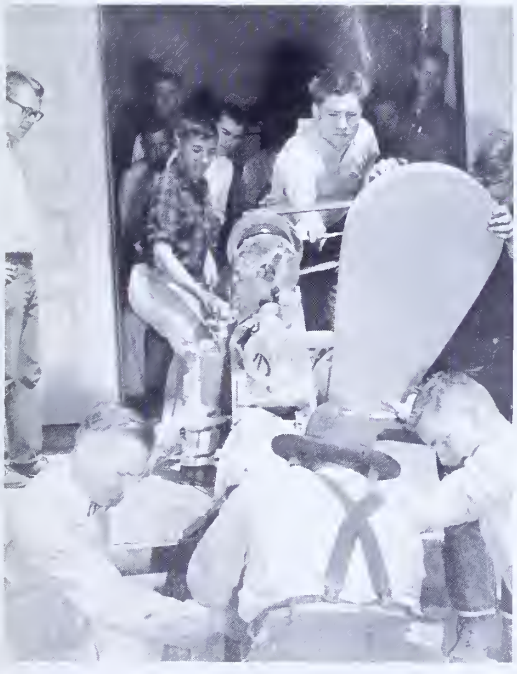
The highly successful spring play, Bachelor Boat, returned enough profit to purchase a curtain for our new auditorium. The auditorium itself is excellently equipped in every respect, with special bleachers and basketball nets, and even a modern lighting control system. The locker rooms are up-to-date in every respect, with provision for the visiting team.

The campus itself and the layout of the buildings are strikingly different from our present cramped quarters. All shops are in a separate shop building, where large, high sunlit rooms will be devoted exclusively to shop purposes, while the classrooms and the modern, well-equipped cafeteria will be housed in the main building, free from disturbing noise and distraction.

Athletics, too, will revel in new freedom with the use of the extensive facilities of C.C.S.F. Much new equipment has been donated, and it will not be long before Lick has one of the best athletic plants in the League.

From Start To Finish





THE LAST WORD

As this is the lost yearbook to be published in the ald schaal, we have tried putting inta its pages as much af the color ond life of the ald schaal os possible, while still showing aff the advantages and beauty af the new school.

The coaperatian af the staff and the componies with whom we warked made the publishing af this yearbaak a pleasure rather than a chore. Among the students, Deming Upsan and Fred Gaidsick should be congratulated far their fine make-up wark. The farmer should also get credit for the beoutifui blueprint cover design which he praduced. Among the faculty Mr. Rich, Mrs. Teterin, Mr. Stutterd, Mr. Sleeper and Mr. Breger deserve thanks far their helpful advice. For phatagraphy Jomes Nuckolls, Don Basca Studias, and Mr. Hassel deserve the highest cammendatian for their fine work. Also Mr. Richard Paai af Paal & Duffy Lithagraphers was invaluable ta us in the printing and make-up af this baok and gave us a great deal af his time in helping prepare it. Finally, aur thanks ga ta Mr. Clay Peters af the S. K. Smith Ca. and ta Mrs. Taibat of the Bushman-Risen Bindery far their help in the printing and binding af the caver.

We of the Tiger staff sincerely hape yau have enjoyed this baok and hape that yau will laok farward with pleasure ta next year's issue.
